Fair Weather

Mostly fair and warmer in the five-day weather forecast for Northern Michigan. Temperatures are expected to average about five degrees above the normal highs of 73 to 75 and normal lows of 54 to 59 Tuesday through next Saturday.

Precipitation is expected to average around one-tenth of an inch in thundershowers about Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

will be guests on the Fairgrounds on the opening day. They will enjoy the exhibits and shows, view the rides and a picnic scheduled for 4 p.m.

There is excitement today on the Fairgrounds as exhibitors arrive to set up their entries in the exhibition building, bed them down in the cattle barns, or enter them in the big tent that this year houses the Fair's junior section.

Experienced superintendents and staff in each of the Fair's 18 departments were busy with the flood of entries.

Jack Little of Chatham again heads the big dairy cattle department as superintendent, and dairy farmers with outstanding records will be honored at the annual dairy banquet to be held in the 4-H Dining Hall on the grounds at 6:30 Tuesday night.

Grey Knaus of Cornell, superintendent, assisted by Henry Wylie of Escanaba, head up the beef cattle department. They are old hands at making that department function smoothly. They are also in charge of sheep.

The annual beef sale will be held at the cattle barns at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Bargaining Stalemate Perils School Opening

Johnson Aides Argue Tax Hike Curbs Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's top fiscal spokesmen are ready to argue that, painful as it is to raise income taxes, it would be more painful to let inflation cut everyone's purchasing power.

Johnson's call for a surcharge of 10 per cent on the income tax owed by individuals and corporations starts its series of tests in a Congress whose members range from grimly resigned to hostile to the proposal.

Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler, Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and Chairman Gardner Ackley of the Council of Economic Advisers were assigned to the opening presentation today before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Johnson, in a series of sessions with House Democrats, has laid out the main lines of the administration argument—a deficit possibly approaching $30 billion would mean inflation, higher interest rates, scarce money for the small business and individual borrower, and, quite likely, disaster for the homebuilding industry.

The opposing argument is that the economy is not so strong but that a burden of the magnitude of the proposed tax increase might depress it—and actually reduce instead of increasing the government's revenues.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee expressed a widespread congressional feeling when he said, "I am absolutely uncommitted."

Attendance Up At Ionia Fair

IONIA (AP)—The Ionia Free Fair ended its 52nd season Saturday night, drawing 451,718 paid visitors during its eight-day run. The attendance was up 20,000 from last year when the fair turned a profit of $18,403.

Glacier Park Grizzlies Kill Two Sleeping Girls

WEST GLACIER, Mont. (AP) — The superintendent of Glacier National Park says lightning may have goaded two grizzly bears into killing two 19-year-old girls early Sunday as they slept in sleeping bags in this rugged wilderness.

Killed in the separate incidents 20 miles apart in the mountainous park on the Montana-Canada border were Julie Helgeson of Albert Lea, Minn., and Michele Koons of San Diego, Calif. Roy Ducat, 18, of Perryburg, Ohio, was seriously injured by the bear that killed Miss Helgeson.

Search For Killers
Forest rangers pressed a search for the killer animals.

Park Supt. Keith Neilson said his only theory on the attacks was that lightning strikes in the park alarmed the normally shy, near-sighted grizzlies into attacking.

Lightning started 14 forest fires in the park Saturday and Sunday. More than 400 firefighters tried to control them. The park has had no rain since June.

"There seems to be an association between the lightning and the attacks," Neilson said, "but we can't be sure. There is no scarcity of natural food and the grizzly is an unusually shy animal. It's strange for them to attack."

Neilson said he has had several reports of bears nudging people in sleeping bags this summer, but they ran when the campers screamed.

The bear that killed Miss Koons snuffed at four other sleeping bags while the occupants lay frozen with fear, then attacked Miss Koons, Neilson said.

Zipper Stuck
The others escaped, but the zipper on her sleeping bag stuck.

All three victims were employed for the summer in park hotels. Miss Koons worked in the gift shop at Lake McDonald Lodge. Miss Helgeson worked in the laundry at East Glacier Lodge and Ducat was a busboy at East Glacier. They were on outings on their days off.

First Killed By Bears
The two girls were the first people reported killed by bears since the park opened in 1910, although several have been injured.

Neilson said Glen Cole, Park Service biologist from Yellowstone National Park, had been summoned to try to figure out why the bears attacked.

Park rangers armed with rifles combed the Granite Park Chalet area where Miss Helgeson was attacked and the Trout Lake area 20 miles west where Miss Koons was killed. All trails in the area were closed to campers and hikers.

Ducat, who was recovering in a Kalispell hospital, told rangers that the bear attacked Miss Helgeson first, then pounced on him in his sleeping bag nearby. He said he escaped and the bear went back to Miss Helgeson.

Ducat staggered bleeding and in shock to a nearby campsite and other campers helped him to a chalet a quarter mile away.

Drowns In Canal

MICHIGAN'S GOV. George Romney shares a laugh with New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as the two prepared to leave for a game of golf on Mackinac Island. Three Governors Endorse Romney

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Romney's intention to seek the nomination.

Gov. George Romney's final push for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination appeared to be underway today following a weekend meeting with his three major supporters in the party's moderate wing.

And the governor disclosed he will embark Sept. 9 on a three-week European trip in which he said he hopes to visit Russia. The trip may be extended to include stops in the Middle East.

The weekend was billed as time of rest and relaxation and Romney and his guests, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Rhode Island Gov. John Chafee, and former Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, left Sunday still insisting there had been little serious political discussion.

But at a news conference Saturday, the three for the first time together emphatically endorsed Romney, and declared that they "shared deeply a sense of dedication" to work for his nomination.

There also appeared a new tone to Romney news conferences, a tone that indicated to some there is no longer any question that Romney will seek the nomination, although he has yet to formally announce his candidacy.

Announcement Ducked
None of the dozen or so newsmen who trailed the governors to this island resort, which can be reached only by plane or boat, in daylight hours, asked the governor: when or if he would announce.

It was a question that Romney has routinely turned aside at every news conference since the 59-year-old governor won a landslide re-election victory last November and stepped into the role of a frontrunner for the nomination.

The questions and answers seemed to take for granted

Scranton made an attempt to wrest the 1964 nomination from Barry Goldwater but got no public support from Romney, who was widely criticized at the time for his aloofness.

Scranton beamed his approval, however, of Rockefeller's statement as did Chafee.

Rockefeller was asked about the possibility of his trying for spot on a Romney ticket as vice presidential candidate.

"That's not my responsibility," he said. "That's George's."

Romney interjected, "It's a little premature to think of that," his only apparent indication that he could change his mind about running.

How To Run
But Romney added, in a statement that clearly showed his thinking had advanced from the whether-to-run stage to how-to-run stage, "We are obviously going to need tremendous talent and leadership. The Republican party has that. Just look at the abundance of Republican governors."

"There is an abundance of Republican talent and ability all across the country, and of course there are many men in Congress, too."

80 Districts In State Still On Unsigned List

By The Associated Press
A labor mediator and the two top teachers' unions expressed concern today that as many as 80 Michigan school districts still have not signed agreements with teachers and may force schools to stay closed in September.

"I'm fearful," said Philip Weiss, a member of the Michigan Labor Mediation Board (MLMB). "I'm very much concerned."

The Michigan Federation of Teachers (MFT), AFL-CIO, and the Michigan Education Association (MEA), both listed many of the districts as critical in collective bargaining negotiations with school boards.

In many districts, teachers have vowed not to return to work unless they have a contract.

Escanaba On List
Detroit, with 11,000 teachers and 238,000 students, is the largest district affected. But several other large districts, including Bay City, Saginaw, Benton Harbor and Escanaba are included on the list.

The Detroit Federation of Teachers, an arm of the MFT, won't resume bargaining until Aug. 28, a week before school starts. A contract ratification meeting is set for Sept. 5.

Failure to ratify the contract means "schools will not open," said Edward Simpkins, DFT vice president.

Weiss said the major problem in most districts is money. He said 25 to 30 millage elections this month would have an important effect on some contracts.

Gov. George Romney, who met with educators Aug. 1, said it would be "naive and unwise" to look to Lansing for more money.

Weiss said 19 mediators are working on teacher negotiations at present and about 30 districts have asked for fact finding from mediators.

Boards Take Hard Line
Last year was the first under a new Michigan law authorizing teachers to select a collective bargaining agent. Teacher bargainers point out, however, that school boards have taken a hard line approach to contract demands this year.

Teachers contend that refusing to work without a contract is within the law.

State law prohibits strikes by public employees, but does not specify penalties for such violations.

Other outside districts considered in the crisis category include Marshall, Grand Blanc, Swartz Creek, Petoskey, Cadillac, Traverse City and Menominee.

Detroit Bakeries Picketed Today

DETROIT (AP)—Four Detroit bakeries were picketed today in a strike over wage rates, but no shortage of bread was expected to develop.

Some 700 workers walked off their jobs at the Taystee, Grennan, Wonder and Hostess bakeries Saturday after negotiations over a new labor contract broke down.

Bombings Near China Stir Up Policy Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. bombing within 10 miles of Red China detonated sharp new criticism of the Vietnam war by a persistent critic of administration war policy and appeared likely to generate more debate on Capitol Hill.

"I think it's very dangerous and extremely stupid," said Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. But Senate preparedness subcommittee chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said the broadened bombing of North Vietnam reflects a more pressure philosophy which he supports.

The new level of bombing came on the eve of Senate debate on President Johnson's foreign aid program. Debate opening today already had been expected to bring fresh attacks on Johnson policies in Vietnam and elsewhere in the world.

Whether one variety of recent congressional criticism—that bombing was too sparing—affected Johnson's decision to add new targets could not be determined as the White House fended off questions on the shift in tactics.

Extend Options
But it was learned that Stennis' subcommittee heard secret testimony last week from Adm. Ulysses S. G. Sharp, Pacific commander, that Johnson had agreed to some extension of warplanes' options to strike what one subcommittee member called "lucrative targets."

Strikes Sunday against North Vietnamese rail yards 10 miles from Red China and Friday against Hanoi's Doumer Bridge came after Johnson lifted temporarily two major target restrictions.

Pentagon sources say the administration will continue those restrictions except on certain key, vital missions. The restricted areas are a 30-mile diameter circle around Hanoi, penetrated two or three times previously, and a 15-to-20-mile-wide buffer zone along the North Vietnam-Red China boundary.

Fulbright Fears
Fulbright said the bombing near Red China "is directly contrary to what was the established policy of the government in 1964 and it will lead the country directly into the most disastrous consequences."

Fulbright's committee, including members already troubled over Vietnam, cut Johnson's $3.4 billion foreign aid request by $736 million.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, a foe of increased aid, said he would oppose the aid bill.

Vader Family Awarded Many Academic Honors

The family of Dr. Leonard T. Vader, 309 S. 6th St., veterinarian in charge of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's U.P. laboratory here, and Mrs. Elnora Vader, 508 2nd Ave. S., a teacher of social science at Escanaba Area High School, have made an unusual bag of academic honors.

Mrs. Vader left today for Logan, Utah with her son, Dan, 14, for a year at Utah State University, where she will study new techniques in the teaching of social sciences and return next spring with a Masters Degree in Art.

Son Tom, 20, who would have been a senior at Michigan State University ending his third year of premedical studies, instead of entering his fourth year will go to the University of Michigan College of Medicine in August, on a scholarship won by the excellence of his record at MSU. Daughter Virginia, 16, left

Mrs. Elnora Vader

July 1 for six months in Colonia Suiza, Uruguay with the family of former exchange student friend, Alma Fusco, whom she met last summer when visiting Mrs. Vader's brother, John Stahan, at Riverdale, Mich.

Virginia is attending school for the winter semester in Colonia Suiza, and having "a marvelous time" according to her letters to her parents. Her host family owns a resort hotel and she recently met there the president of Uruguay, who dropped in in his helicopter, and she went to Montevideo to meet the U.S. ambassador to Uruguay.

John, 17, "is our favorite high school dropout," said Mrs. Vader. "He has been attending Escanaba Area High School and has completed his studies for the four years at the end of his junior year and is leaving Sept. 13 to attend Mackinac College on Mackinac Island, on a scholarship.

He was also offered a partial tuition scholarship and admission to Michigan State University but chose Mackinac. The honors were on basis of his high school record, in which he finished all work required for graduation in three years. Only requirement for a diploma which he has not earned is the maturity of four years of high school matriculation, but he enters college as a freshman and will probably get his high school diploma when his class graduates in June, 1968.

Ford Reports Sales Increase

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. today were expected to make their sales reports following General Motors report of a slight gain over last year in new car sales for the first 10 days of August.

Ford reported its dealers sold 56,289 cars in the Aug. 1-10 period, compared with 51,603 in the same 10 days a year ago. General Motors reported 92,257 new car sales, compared with 101,052.

Ford's gain was 4,686; GM's loss 8,795. Ford's Ford division reported a seven per cent gain, 48,056 vs. 44,927, and its Lincoln Mercury division a 22 per cent increase, 8,233 against 6,676.

Frank E. Zimmerman Jr., Lincoln-Mercury sales manager, said it was the 15th consecutive 10-day period his division's dealers had surpassed the year-ago pace.

GM's Chevrolet division reported 44,808 sales in the latest Aug. 1-10 period, compared with 50,258 in the same year-ago sales period.

Gregg And West Named Pictured Rocks Panelists

LANSING (AP) — Two nominations to membership on the new Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore Advisory Commission have been announced by Gov. George Romney.

Nominated were Glenn C. Gregg of Lansing, deputy director of recreation for the State Department of Conservation, and David C. West of Negaunee, an official of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co.

The nominations were submitted to Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Appointments to the five-member advisory commission are to include two members nominated by the governor, two by the local area and one by Udall.

Mental Hearing

LANSING (AP) — A special House committee on mental health legislation for criminal cases will hold a public hearing in Mount Clemens on Sept. 12.

In a report of preliminary studies, the committee has recommended controls of parole and release of criminal sexual psychopaths.

Yosemite National Park is California's foremost scenic attraction, the National Geographic says. The park, about the size of Rhode Island, draws some 1,600,000 visitors each year.

Old Folks Given Booze Seized In Raided Taverns

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Contraband booze seized by police in raids on unlicensed taverns is keeping the bar bill low at four old folks homes.

Last month, said the police journal, police delivered 18 cases of liquor, 36 cases of wine and 109 cases of beer to the homes.

A spokesman for the Masonic Home of Missouri said the confiscated liquor is delivered twice a year and "issued by our medical director to those who need it." He said the average age of the residents was 82.

Others receiving the medicinal spirits are the Jewish Center for the Aged and two homes operated by the Little Sisters of the Poor.

School Source Of Child's Stability

CADILLAC — "Let's all get down to business right now and dedicate ourselves to stopping the game of 'September roulette' which apparently we are playing in some of our schools again this year," said Dr. Leroy Augenstein, member of the State Board of Education, as he addressed the "Blast-Off" session of the Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals meeting here.

"We all found out at a meeting in the Governor's office recently that we face a very critical situation in Michigan—in over 300 school districts the teachers' contracts still have not been signed. Furthermore, in at least 20 districts, negotiations have been suspended until the very last few days before school begins. Unfortunately, at the Governor's meeting, the various negotiating parties each blamed someone else for the serious situation," Augenstein said.

Augenstein then urged the school administrators to take at least three urgent steps to avoid having a large number of schools without the services of their teachers in September.

"First, it is 'way past time for everyone in education to take personal responsibility for using every possible minute in the remaining four weeks so that we don't have close to 100 school districts without the services of their teachers come Sept. 5."

"Second, all administrators must obey the 10th commandment—thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's teachers. There will be a great temptation for teachers to jump from those districts where contracts have not been signed to those where they have. Remember the Tenure Law says that to transfer legally a teacher must have given notice by July 1. You must make sure there is mutual agreement of all parties for any transfers from districts

Congressman Ruppe Charges Politics Hurts Northern Lakes Economic Body

WASHINGTON — Congressman Phil Ruppe (R-Mich) today charged that partisan politics is destroying the "high purpose of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission."

"We had all hoped that the Upper Great Lakes Commission would this year move vigorously toward its goal of economic development in Northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota," Ruppe stated. "In Northern Michigan we are tired of being studied to death, what we need is action and the Commission developed a sound program of action projects including much needed highway construction, accelerated development in commercial and sports fishing, and vocational schools."

"Governor Romney and I have been working with commission members to obtain federal involvement in a toll reduction or removal program for the Mackinac Bridge. The commission members themselves, meeting on Mackinac Island last month adopted a combined state regional report."

"Then," Ruppe said, "politics set in. Democratic senators and congressmen became fearful that the Republican governors in the three states would receive credit for the commission's accomplishments. Certain Democratic congressmen and senators even began sniping at Federal Co-Chairman Thomas Francis, who is himself a Democrat and an appointee of President Johnson."

The Northern Michigan congressman said the complaint lodged against Francis was that "he cooperated too much with Republican governors and congressmen" or that "he is not political enough." Ruppe said there is a move afoot to oust Francis "in favor of a more politically oriented favorite."

Ruppe stated that "the squeeze was put on in the House Public Works Committee and the amount authorized was 1/40th of what the commission indicated would be necessary to even initiate top priority projects."

"The figures are pretty stark," said Ruppe. "While the Public Works Committee authorized well above $300 million for the Appalachian Commission, it authorizes $2 1/2 million for administration and research and $5 million for supplemental grants for the entire three state region of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota."

"Even more important than the money," Ruppe said, is the fact that the Great Lakes Commission stands at a crossroads. It can become a dynamic force for spurring economic development in a three state region, or it can become another political boondoggle to reward the faithful partisans. If the Commission becomes a real force for progress I will continue to give it my full support. If it becomes a political pork barrel, I will oppose it with all my vigor," concluded the Michigan Congressman.

(Escanaba Mayor Harold Vanlerberg is chairman of Michigan's Advisory Task Force to the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission.)

Silver can be used for more than just a pretty pin. It has many uses in medicine — for antiseptics, astringents and caustics and it is ideal for surgical wire and plates to replace bones. Silver also sterilizes water, fills teeth, backs mirrors, acts as a catalyst in the manufacture of fertilizers and destroys warts.

History Project Will Microfilm Weekly Papers

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — John Cumming, director of the Clarke Historical Library at Central Michigan University, has started a project to microfilm every weekly newspaper in Michigan.

"The newspaper is probably the most important source of historical information" about a town, Cumming says. "Even the poorest of newspapers yield information through advertising and bulletins."

Most daily papers in Michigan already have their files on microfilm, Cumming says, so his project, to start this fall and expected to take five years, will concentrate on weeklies.

The Kresge Foundation provided $20,000 for the project and Central Michigan University raised another $30,000 from other foundations and donors.

U.P. North Central Boardings

Escanaba 5th In Air Traffic

The quest of airline boardings as a means of getting more air service shows Marquette leading the cities of the Upper Peninsula. Escanaba is in fifth place.

The Marquette area is the Peninsula's largest population concentration area and K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base and Northern Michigan University also contribute to air traffic there.

The Civil Aeronautics Board in its report on national air traffic, says that in scheduled local air service of the type serving the Upper Peninsula, Peoria, Ill., Utica, N.Y., Erie, Pa., and Green Bay, Wis., led the nation in that order. Green Bay is served only by North Central Airlines, while Peoria is served by Ozark, Utica by Mohawk, and Erie by Allegheny, Mohawk and Lake Central airlines.

Peoria boarded 98,059 passengers in 1966, while Green Bay's Austin Straubel Field originated 62,588, a gain of 8.5 per cent over 1965. Green Bay was North Central's No. 1 port for cities served only by North Central, while Chicago, with 1,006,632 passengers for NC topped the list of all ports, Detroit was second with 210,582 and Milwaukee third with 202,090. The national airport ranking of these cities in terms of traffic was, in order, 1st, 13th and 16th.

Other national airport rankings of cities served by North Central, along with their 1966 passenger boardings, included: 17th-Minneapolis 190,177; 22nd-Cleveland 147,526; 36th-Omaha 88,992; 49th-Green Bay 62,588; 51st-Madison 61,383; 74th-Oshkosh 45,070; 133rd-Lansing 23,568; 143rd-Traverse City 21,325; 155th-Wausau 19,704; 168th-LaCrosse 17,173; 176th-Marquette 16,509; 228th-Eau Claire 11,267; 237th-Houghton 10,677; 242nd-Iron Mountain 10,237; 259th-Sault Ste. Stocks Decline In Early Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined to active trading early Monday as a full week of abbreviated sessions began.

The trading day was cut to four hours from 5½ to allow brokerage houses to catch up with paper work.

Losers outnumbered gainers by about 5 to 4 and the Dow Jones Industrial Average sank about 3 points.

Ling-Temco-Vought sank 8 points in reaction to news that Allis-Chalmers had rejected a cash tender offer for its stock. Allis-Chalmers was delayed in opening.

General Dynamics inched higher. The news was that Allis-Chalmers has been talking merger with General Dynamics.

Church Delegates Attend Four-Day Sault Convention

Local delegates to last week's district convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in Sault Ste. Marie were encouraged to have a greater share in "disciple-making" in view of the critical times in which we live.

Edward Palmcock, presiding minister of the Escanaba congregation, said two new books released at the assembly, designed for personal and group Bible study, will soon be incorporated into the congregation's ministerial training program.

A third book released at the assembly, "Did Man Get Here by Evolution or by Creation?" will be used in the congregation's public ministry. A special effort will be made to contact all school teachers and professors in the near future.

About 3,200 delegates from 16 states, Canada and Iceland attended the four-day convention sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York.

July Set Cool Mark Of Century

July was cool and dry in the Escanaba area and it brought the coolest day in July in the history of local weather record keeping, which goes back nearly a full century. The temperature dropped to 40 degrees on July 5.

It was the lowest temperature, the Weather Bureau says, since 1898, when the previous low of 41 degrees was recorded on July 11. The same low temperature was recorded on July 19, 1912.

July was the third driest July in the past 60 years, with rainfall totaling less than any years except 1936 and 1939.

The average temperature for the month was 64.3 degrees, which was 2.9 degrees under normal. The highest temperature was 88 on the 22nd and 23rd. There were only four days in which the temperature reached 80 degrees or more.

The precipitation for the month totaled only 0.81 inch, which was 2.72 inches under normal. Greatest rainfall in 24 hours was on the 18th when 0.27 inches fell.

Three Marquette Firemen Stricken By Fire Fumes

MARQUETTE — Three Marquette firemen were hospitalized Sunday when overcome by fumes while fighting a fire which broke out in bins holding 10 tons of charcoal briquets at the Cliffs-Dow Chemical Co.

Two other men were treated at the hospital and released. Hospitalized were Joseph Johnson, 26; Richard Peterson, 25; and John Racine, 23. Daniel McQuisten, 23, a fireman, and Upro Nevala, 58, plant fire chief, were treated and released.

George Stanley, assistant fire chief, said there was little damage to the plant, but most of the briquets were water soaked and many were burned. Stanley said the fire apparently started from spontaneous combustion.

Us And Rats

Some congressmen ridiculed the Johnson Administration's $40 million rat control bill in defeating it in the first round and it has been used by some foes of the War on Poverty as an example of another government boondoggle. Imagine, $40 million dollars to kill a bunch of rats! they say.

Congressmen who favored the use of federal funds to kill rats in big city slums were impressed that some cities aren't doing much to get rid of the rodents. Oddly, Detroit has done one of the best jobs of American big cities in rat control.

Rat infestation of ghettos has been one of the points of anger in the Negro protests, but Detroit major efforts to control this menace didn't stay the riot lighting. Last year Detroit spent $385,000 for rat control and, of course, its $18 million annual expenditure for garbage collection is aimed at rat control.

Detroit requires "rat walls" in its building code and even in its recent fire bombing in the rioting its rat exterminators were able to contain the rats burned out of their nests in the Negro districts and they doubled their containment and extermination efforts after the riots.

Rats are one of man's oldest enemies and rate as his No. 1 animal foe. The female rat can breed at four months and usually produces four litters of 6 or more a year. Females have dropped litters of as many as 22 as often as once a month. One pair of rats can have millions of descendants in a couple years and we'd be up to our necks in rats, to paraphrase a soiled old saloon story about alligators, if it weren't that men are constantly killing them.

We don't do a good job of it because, while we hire exterminators who do them in by the thousands, the public doesn't know much about rats and it helps them survive and increase. Health specialists say that rats could be exterminated in six months if people would keep the covers on their garbage cans and construction workers feed so many rats with discarded lunch scraps that it's said that rats always move into a new building before the people do.

Rats will eat almost anything and that should make them easy to poison or trap, but it isn't. They suspect anything new. Feed for dogs, cats, birds and squirrels in the back yard is a smorgasbord for rats. So are dishes in the sink. Rats have regular runs and are aware of any changes and so they avoid traps.

Rats cause a natural revulsion in humans and yet humans are strongly tolerant of them when it is considered that they could be exterminated, that they don't do any good that anyone knows about, and that they do an enormous amount of damage and are great enemies of human health.

The rat is not only the symbol of the ghetto's despair and the biter of its babies, it has a population estimated at about 100 million — about half as many rats as people — and it does U. S. damage estimated at about $1 billion a year. Rats cause a world loss of stored grains that would feed 200 million people. They not only eat a lot of food intended for humans, they also spoil a great deal with their droppings.

They bring the filth of sewers and garbage cans into kitchens and carry the germs of epidemic jaundice, typhoid fever, the rabies virus and the parasites of trichinosis. Their bites are commonplace in big city slums and bitten babies often develop rat-bite fever or other infections. New York City averages 600 rat bite cases a year and the national count is estimated at 50,000 or more. There are some in the Upper Peninsula.

Rats are being eliminated by sanitary landfill management of dumps in Marquette, Ishpeming-Negaunee and Escanaba and at Iron Mountain and several communities have landfill operations in process of organization. Some of the cities have taken suburban townships into their plans so the benefits are expanded.

Bulldozers compact and cover the dump material to destroy harborage of rats and leave the dump covered with 6 inches of sand nightly to end access to food. The method is more economical than incinerators and not subject to their air pollution problems.

The U. P. hasn't achieved a good standard of disposal of solid wastes yet, say State Health Department workers, but gains are being made. When dump rats increase in numbers and can't find food with the coming of fall and winter they migrate as much as 5 miles into the cities to get food and there they're apt to find garbage cans without tight covers and homes which they can enter and find hiding places in basement and attic.

Rail Mediation

For American workers, it was a sad day for Congress to become the nation's No. 1 strike-breaking agency, said Joseph W. Ramsey, vice president of the International Association of Machinists and chief spokesman for six shop craft unions in their wage dispute with the railroads.

It was, even sadder was it, however, that it was the machinists' strike and a day of spreading chaos in the nation's vital rail system that finally forced Congress to pass a law compelling negotiations.

The legislation provides that if the companies and union reach no contract agreement within 60 days, a special five-man board appointed by the President will write the terms. These will take effect at the end of another 30 days if no other settlement is reached in that time, and will remain in effect until the end of 1968.

This is compulsory arbitration, something which not only the unions but the government have sought to avoid. But the public interest and national security have too long and too often been placed in jeopardy by the perennial inability of railroad management and labor to reach accords on this and other disputes.

They now have nearly three months to do it this time.

Both Ramsey and his counterpart on the opposite side of the bargaining table are on their way out. J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference and chief negotiator for the carriers, retires August 1. Ramsey reached retirement age July 23.

It would be a distinguished climax to two distinguished careers if, before they left, they had put the nation's railroads back on a clear track.

"Don't Worry; It's in a Good Cause!"

Still LBJ In 1968

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Lyndon B. Johnson may go before the American electorate in 1968 as a chief executive who is managing the fourth big year of the nation's most controversial war, who put through a major tax increase and who has never had a quiet summer in office.

It sounds like a perfect description of the conditions for landslide defeat at the polls. Yet no one at all familiar with the shaky art of politics is daring here to predict that Johnson will, in fact, be crushed.

This is so even though it is plain that, in one form or another, the suggested conditions seem likely to prevail at election time.

A tax boost is now almost a foregone conclusion. The probability is high that the President will see a fifth straight summer of racial outbreak. And the prospect is poor for an early end to the Vietnam war.

Veteran political figures in both parties nevertheless appear to believe that, while the President may be beatable under those conditions, he may also survive and take a second full term.

The war is the key. If there is any important measure of clear forward motion in Vietnam at campaign time, or any decisive moves toward the negotiating table, Johnson could be the beneficiary of heavy voting support.

It is also possible that he would be widely supported if, at election time, our fortunes in Vietnam were at critical low ebb. Americans have a habit of backing incumbent presidents in moments of crisis.

The worst nightmare for the President would be conclusive evidence either that we are standing still in the war or losing ground slowly in an obvious battle of attrition. A review of voter attitudes during the Korean war in the 1952 Eisenhower-Stevenson campaign shows most people were upset over the seeming futility of the combat at that stage.

Newest poll figures consequently must give Johnson more than ordinary concern. Some 56 per cent of answering American voters say they think we are either losing ground or standing still in Vietnam.

Since the President has always been acutely sensitive to every facet of poll readings, influential Democrats and Republicans alike feel that he would act sharply to impart visible motion to the war in mid-1968 if voter samplings then reflected the same sort of bad news he is getting today.

Clearly, this does not mean that, automatically, he has it within his power to save himself at the polls next November if he acts to break a stalemate war condition. The moves could misfire, or come too late to impress voters, or be read widely as a campaign contrivance.

Yet, as indicated, no seasoned politician in either party is quite ready to say today that the Vietnam war will be the President's sure undoing in 1968.

If the war will not do him in, if it is accepted by a majority of voters as a disagreeable but necessary exercise of free world power, then a supportive tax increase appears unlikely to be at all decisive. It would peel off some voters, but not in critical numbers.

The political cost to the President of an unbroken series of riotous summers on the racial front is harder to gauge. His present involvement in charges that he acted politically in the Detroit situation is certainly no help to him. But this dispute probably will be forgotten by another summer.

More to the point, if he has another bad one in 1968, will be the question raised in many voters' minds whether this particular president can ever hope to preside over a calm summer. In that eventuality, there could be a considerable disposition among millions of voters to give someone else a try.

Perhaps a major undertaking, growing out of the recommendations of his now commission, could restore him on this front. At the moment, again, the political veterans are not prepared to say that racial turmoil finishes LBJ.

Much obviously depends on the nature and the bent of Johnson's still undetermined 1968 Republican opponent. Whatever his adversary's programs, this rival must appeal to a majority of U. S. voters as a plausible alternative leader in war and great civil disturbance—the two most trying ordeals any president can face.

The fellow who invented the "formula" television show undoubtedly flunked chemistry.

The tellers of tales and the weavers of stories have been supplanted as creators of folklore by the compilers of expense accounts.

Only folks who first launch them have the ghost of a chance to see their ships come in.

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky declares U.S. congressional criticism of him is unfair.

Ky answered newsmen's questions while on a trip to Kai San, in the Mekong Delta, about congressional criticism that the Ky regime is rigging the current presidential election.

Ky is the vice presidential candidate on a ticket headed by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu in the Sept. 3 election.

"I would like to ask all these critics to come here for a few days and see and hear for themselves," Ky said.

A similar offer by South Vietnam's ambassador to Washington, Bui Diem, was turned down Friday by both Democratic and Republican congressional leaders.

"I hope the senators and congressmen come out here, particularly Fulbright, Mansfield, Morse and all the so-called opposition."

Ky was referring to Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.; Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.; and Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

Jim: "Here is an interesting hand for bidding. There is nothing to the play."

Oswald: "You're right. Playing in diamonds or in no-trump North and South have 12 top tricks and would make a grand slam if the spade finesse were to work."

Jim: "It should have been a cinch to get to six diamonds and the pair that did get to six diamonds by the bidding in the box have asked us to comment. Incidentally, the game was match point duplicate."

Oswald: "You remember the story about the man who asked, 'How do I get to the Jones Drugstore?' The answer was: 'Drive to the third traffic light and turn left. No! Just drive to the second traffic light. Turn left and then right. No. You'd better go to the fourth traffic light. Oh! You can't get there from here.' There is no good way to get to six no-trump and my guess is that six diamonds bid and made turned out to be a good score."

Jim: "It was. It seems that no one else in the field reached that spot. Some did not get to a slam at all. A couple of others reached seven and the failure of the spade finesse brought them down with a crash."

Oswald: "I suppose we could improvise and show how to land at six no-trump. Why should we? Bridge is not an exact science and never will be until you can see all 52 cards during the bidding. I like the bidding in the box except for West's rather pointless and dangerous one heart bid. This gave North a chance to cue bid and to cue bid a second time to show that he really meant the first one. Then South did well to start proceedings by rebidding his diamond suit. This made it obvious that his later bids were ace-showing."

Ann Landers

Children Need Love; How About It, Dad?

Dear Ann Landers: Tears filled my eyes when I read the letter from the 16-year-old girl who complained because her father hugged and kissed her too much. She said it was embarrassing.

That girl doesn't know how lucky she is. I would have given anything if my father had kissed me even once a month. I really shouldn't blame him too much because he was almost 35 when he married Mom and he didn't know how to show affection to small children, although he had four of his own. Dad died three years ago. I was 15. I cherish the memory of the few hello and good-bye kisses he did give me.

I hope every father who reads this letter will ask himself when was the last time he kissed his children—yes, boys, too. They need affection as much as girls. There isn't enough love in the world today, and the place to learn how to give and receive love is at home.—RALEIGH MISS

Dear Miss: You are unusually wise and perceptive for an 18-year-old. And you have a forgiving heart, too, which is good. I hope the fathers in my reading audience will take inventory. Was Miss Raleigh speaking to you?

Dear Ann Landers: My husband sold his business a few years ago and retired. We are not wealthy, but we have a nice income from past investments, plus Social Security. I have always handled the money in the family. My husband doesn't know what it is to pay a bill. I also helped him in his business and paid the company bills as well.

Now that we are entering our golden years we should be relaxed, but we aren't. My husband is driving me crazy because I am not able to save any money. He keeps asking, "Where does it all go?"

I have tried to explain that the cost of living has gone up, taxes are up, club memberships are up, and we can't drive a car free.

We have not touched our principal. We live on interest and Social Security, but still he hollers. "Everyone should save something." Will you please give him an answer?—TIERED IN TOLEDO

Dear Tiered: He doesn't want an answer. He'd rather holler. It's probably his best form of recreation since he retired. Start next month to keep an itemized account of every dime you spend. When he starts yelling, hand him the list. That should settle his hash.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 16-year-old boy who may be killed by his mother one of these days. I know she would never forgive herself, but I'd be dead just the same.

It is my job to empty the wastebaskets and the trash. My mother is always throwing aerosol cans into the wastebaskets. When I burn the trash the cans explode. Sometimes two or three cans explode in a row, and it sounds like a sonic boom.

I have read of people getting killed by these things and I don't want it to happen to me. I've told my mother three times to please keep the aerosol cans out of the wastebaskets, but she forgets. What can I do?—SHOCKED

Dear Shocked: You can stop depending on your mother and sort out the trash yourself, Bub.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Cranberry Test At Newberry Is Called A Success

By JACQUELINE KORONA
NEWBERRY (AP) — Tangy, little cranberries one day may float out of bogs in the Upper Peninsula and land Michigan in yet another commercial fruit industry.

"Wisconsin's cranberry production is higher than that of New Jersey or Massachusetts," says J.F. Davis, a Michigan State University professor of soil science.

"And from the information available Michigan can produce yields equal to those produced in Wisconsin."

Another arrow pointing toward the cranberry as a possible Michigan product-to-be is an experimental project conducted in Luce County by Newberry businessmen.

The county chamber of commerce, with technical assistance from the MSU Cooperative Extension Service, conducted a successful experiment to grow cranberries in the Upper Peninsula in quantities sufficient to make the berries commercially productive.

area, says Karl Larson of Sault Ste. Marie. He is agricultural agent for Chippewa, Luce and Mackinac counties.

"Yields of 8,000 to 10,000 pounds per acre are considered sufficient to meet the standards of commercial production," he said.

The county reports that several commercial firms already are interested in the experiment, which dates back to 1954 when a Wisconsin cranberry processing company inquired about bog lands in the Newberry area.

Started In 1960

Interested persons and organizations met to discuss the possibility of berry bog business and in 1960 a plot was selected and cranberries planted.

Temperatures in the Newberry area are comparable to those in one of the commercial cranberry bog areas of Wisconsin, Davis says. In mid-May this year, the temperature at the Wisconsin bog was 16 degrees above zero. On several late-May nights it dropped below freezing.

Soil in the Upper Peninsula compares with that of Wisconsin bogs in its high degree of acidity.

Davis says that with good conditions it is possible to produce 100 barrels (100 pounds per barrel) per acre. The price per pound last year was about 15 cents—providing a gross income per acre of $1,500.

Regional Winner

The project has been named a regional winner in the Agricultural Development of the Year contest connected with Michigan Week activities. The 13 regional winners will compete for the 1967 state award. Judging will take place during the Michigan State Fair Aug. 25-Sept. 4.

"Yields equal to as much as 14,600 pounds per acre were reported taken from the small test plots in the experimental area," Davis says.

"One ton of vines per acre are needed to plant a bog," says Davis. "The cost of vines depends on the variety, but ranges from $150 to $1,000 a ton."

Vines must be mowed and spread on a peat bog. A "track-

This Is Best Time To Build Lawn In State

Aug. 15 to Sept. 1 are considered the best times for establishing a lawn in Michigan, notes Dr. James Beard, Michigan State University turfgrass researcher.

He gives these tips for doing the job right:

First, be sure all debris is cleared away and that the site offers good drainage.

Work into the topsoil 10 to 15 pounds of a balanced lawn fertilizer per 1,000 square feet. Add limestone if the soil is acid.

Roll and rake for a finely-textured seedbed.

Then seed or sod with grasses adapted to your area.

Be sure to keep sod or seedbed moist until the grass is well established. This may be for at least two to four weeks.

After first or second mowing, advises Beard, apply additional fertilizer according to directions on the package. This application should furnish at least 1/2 pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet.

laying type tractor with special cleats on the track" then pushes the vines into the soil.

The bog should be near a source of acid water (PH4.5), Davis says, adding that would-be cranberry growers might have a problem finding water in Michigan that is acid enough for flooding and for sprinkler irrigation for frost protection.

A cranberry crop is harvested from late September through October, using either a vine stripper or a vine beater. Optimum conditions call for harvesting in 8 to 18 inches of water.

As the berries are stripped or beaten off the vines they float to the top of the water and are removed in metal tubs for their trip to the processing plant.

Some 50 per cent of the berries end up as sauce and 32 per cent as juice. The remainder are sold as fresh fruit.

Boy, 12, Critical After Accident

Melvin Cousineau Jr., 12, of 220 N. 3rd St., Manistique, remains in critical condition at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital today after an automobile accident Saturday on U.S. 2 at Thompson Creek.

State Police said the boy was struck by a car driven by Katherine Kemp, 26, of Texarkana, Ark., which was going east.

Cousineau was standing on the north shoulder of the highway with two companions and apparently did not see the car as he started to cross the road, troopers said. The other two boys, Marty Cousineau Jr., 15, of Charlevoix and Donald Houghton, 14, of Manistique, waited on the shoulder and were not hurt.

Hospital officials said Melvin Cousineau is suffering from internal head and other injuries.

Investigation of the accident is continuing, officers said.

Saturday, Opal Davis, 41, of Manistique, suffered a fractured arm at 4 p.m. when the door of a car in which she was riding opened while making a left turn on the Kendall Rd. The car was driven by George Carlson, 52, of Manistique.

A semi-truck driven by Glenn Martsock, 34, of Michigan City, Ind., went off U.S. 2 at the Tannery Rd. Sunday when it swerved to avoid a car ahead which had stopped for a turn. State Police said 13 guard rail posts were knocked off.

Heres How To Fit Young Feet

Life is so much more pleasant for the grammar school gang when shoes are properly selected.

That's a good maxim for Mom and Dad to keep in mind, as they take up the project of outfitting the youngsters' feet for school. Here are some tips for parents to follow when considering footwear fit, construction and materials, as suggested by Leather Industries of America.

To assure correct fit, shoe salesmen should measure each foot while it is bearing the child's full weight. Shoes should be three-quarters of an inch longer than the longest toe on the largest foot. No gaps should appear at sides or heels.

Shoe materials are also a factor. In shoes of all leather construction, the leather molds itself naturally to the foot's shape, and the leather soles offer sturdy support.

In choosing shoes of proper construction, check to see that the counter of the shoe is firm, but not so hard as to cause heel blisters. Examine inside seams for roughness.

Three Escanaba teams captured titles in the district softball tournaments that concluded Sunday night at Memorial Field.

The Merchants took Class B honors by turning back Flat Rock, 2-1, in the finals.

The Teamsters completed a sweep over Class C competition by downing Rapid River, 4-1, in the title match.

Mead fought off a comeback by the Manistique Schoolcraft Agency team to win the Class D crown, 3-1.

The Merchants had earlier downed Flat Rock, 2-0, with Bob Coriveau firing a four-hitter. Roger Lundquist scored both runs for the winners, riding home on a single by Tony Derkos and a triple by Bill Goodreau.

In the Class B finals the Merchants made it stand up as Bill McGovern and Coriveau scattered seven hits. Billy Smith tossed both games for Flat Rock, giving up three hits in the first game and six in the second. Coriveau doubled home Roger Martinson and

Tech Golfer Wins Title

It's 'Shoe-In' For Confrey At Iron Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN — Dave Confrey of Houghton will probably remember the 1967 Upper Peninsula Golf Tournament as a "shoe-in."

Besides breezing to a seven-stroke victory over the championship field Saturday, Confrey claimed his second pair of golf shoes in the tournament as his winning prize — giving him a total of four new pairs of golf shoes.

He won the first pair with a medalist score of 70 on the first day of the tournament and explained that he ordered two other pairs of golf shoes before the tournament started.

The two pairs of shoes he ordered failed to arrive, he said, he hoped to be able to cancel the order.

Confrey, 24-year-old Winnipeg, Canada, native who captained Michigan Tech's golf team this spring, fired a closing 74 for a 72-hole score of 294. Runnerup was Pine Grove champion Jack Hooper of Iron Mountain, who closed with 72 for 301.

Defending champion Bill Smith of Sault Ste. Marie was third at 304. Smith shot a two-under-par 34 on the back nine Saturday, but a 42 going out had cost him any chance of overtaking the leader.

Ken Wisuri of Crystal Falls finished fourth with 310, while Jack Smith of Highland and Dr. Jim Strong of Ontonagon tied for fifth with 311. Wisuri had a 74 Saturday, Smith a 79 and Strong 78.

Other championship flight scores with Saturday's round in parentheses were: Mike Shanley, Marquette, (78) 313; Wayne Vitta, Sault Ste. Marie, Canada (78) 314; Bill Vaseau, Marquette (80) 321; Dave Andrews, Country Club (78) 323; Everett Senobe, Marquette, (83) 323; Dave Friets, Highland (80) 326; Rick McGoon, Marquette (88) 328; Lee Palmer, Norway (88) 326.

Don Christensen of Iron

Mountain won the first flight, followed by Mike Tomasoski of Norway and George Young of Highland. Dick Knoll of the Country Club was the only area winner, taking top prize in the third flight.

Souchak Almost Blows Michigan Open Golf Title

LINDEN (AP)—Mike Souchak thought he had the 47th Annual Michigan Open Golf Tournament sewed up as he went into the 18th hole of the final round. He was seven under par and leading. Then he hit a wedge over the green from 100 yards, chipped short of the green and two-putted when he finally got on.

What pulled him through Sunday was that two of his three closest contenders—Brian Brion and Jimmy Picard—were having troubles of their own.

The 40-year-old pro at Birmingham's Oakland Hills Country Club fired rounds of 68 and 71 for a 72-hole total of 203, one stroke better than Brion, Picard and Chuck Matlack.

Two strokes off the pace at Spring Meadows Country Club, where the tournament was held the second straight year, was the tournament's low amateur, Robert Meyer of East Lansing, with a 205.

At 286 were Casmere Jawor or Dearborn Heights and Mike Hill of Tecumseh.

John Motenda of Warren was fifth with 287, and defending champion Gene Bone of Pontiac and Detroit's Walter Berkamo tied for sixth at 289.

"I tried to give it away, but they wouldn't take it, for which I am grateful," Souchak said.

He was referring to the near fatal double bogey six on the 70th hole that could have cost him the $1,000 top prize, had Brion and Matlack not run into difficulties.

"What's happened has happened," Souchak said coming off the 18th green, thinking he'd blown the tournament. "But I can't determine what happens out there on the course."

But putting disaster hit both Brion, 24-year-old assistant pro at Orchard Lake's Tam O'Shanter Country Club, who led the tournament through the first three rounds, and Matlack of Rockford.

Brion three-putted the 18th for a bogey. He missed the green with his tee shot on the 22nd and 17th hole for another bogey to drop from six under par to four under.

Matlack was seven under par after dropping a 20-foot birdie on the 14th green and had the tournament in his back pocket. But he three-putted the last three holes, taking bogies on all three.

He missed a three-footer for a par on the 16, a four-footer on the 17, and an eight-footer on the 18 when he charged past the cup from 80 feet.

The tournament will return again next year to Spring Meadows.

Sore Arm And All, Unitas Leads Colts To Win Over Pats

BOSTON (AP)—Johnny Unitas, the Baltimore Colts' sharpshooter who won a top share of the National Football League's passing records, still is bothered by a sore arm, but rivals had better beware.

"Sure, the arm still bothers me," the 32-year-old NFL quarterback said with a shrug Sunday after helping the Colts to a 33-3 victory over the Boston Patriots of the rival American Football League.

Unitas, handicapped by a knee injury and tendinitis in his right shoulder and elbow the past two years, indicated he was a man ready and willing to live with a little pain.

He completed nine of 14 passes for 91 yards and broke out of a trap to rush for eight yards as the Colts built a 19-3 first half lead. Then he retired to the sidelines as Baltimore posted its 13th straight exhibition triumph.

The victory evened the 16-game preseason series between the two leagues at one game each. However, Detroit, a 13-7 upset victim against Denver's AFL Broncos, attempts to break the deadlock tonight as host to the Buffalo Bills, last year's AFL Eastern champs, in the only game scheduled.

Unitas completed three key passes before he handed off to Tom Matte for a five-yard score-ing run completing a 59-yard march late in the first period. The Patriots picked up a 37-yard field goal by Gino Cappelletti early in the second quarter, but Lenny Moore returned the ensuing kickoff 46 yards to the Boston 37.

A 17-yard Unitas pass then helped set up a 26-yard field goal by Lou Michaels.

Jon Morris' long distance centering pass on punt formation sailed out of the end zone for a safety. The Colts added another quick seven points by taking the free kick and going 39 yards, Unitas passing to rookie Ray Perkins for 19 and then handing off to yearling Jim Detwiler for the other 20. The Patriots made their deepest penetration, to the Baltimore 21, in the third period, but a field goal attempt failed. The Colts added touchdowns on Jim Welch's five-yard run and rookie Terry Southall's pass to Bob Baldwin covering 72 yards in the finale.

The only other game Sunday produced a minor surprise as San Francisco clobbered the Cleveland Browns 42-14 at San Francisco in an all-NFL exhibition.

Cleveland errors set up the rout as the 49ers scored twice after recovering fumbles and again after recovering a blocked field goal attempt.

John Brodie's 61-yard pass to Kay McFarland produced another score and drives of 45 and 76 yards got the other two before 27,482 fans.

Frank Ryan and Gary Lane threw touchdown passes for the Browns.

In the NFL Saturday, Los Angeles whipped Dallas 20-6, Green Bay bounced Pittsburgh 31-20, New Orleans upset St. Louis 23-14, Minnesota trounced Philadelphia 34-0 and the New York Giants and Atlanta played to a 10-10 tie.

In the AFL, Kansas City easily handled the New York Jets 30-17, San Diego nudged Miami 20-19 and Oakland cruised by Houston 24-7.

Philadelphia also lost two members of its backfield Sunday, Ollie Matson through retirement and quarterback King Hill to a broken hand.

Chiefs Vault To 3rd Place In Loop Race

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Chiefs vaulted into third place in the Waubesa baseball league race Sunday by defeating Cooks, 11-4, behind Bob Cowman's three hit pitching performance.

Manistique evened its season record at 4-4 with a nine hit attack off Tom Miller. Gary Sample and Paul Demars led the assault with three hits apiece. Russ King, Cowman and Sample contributed doubles.

Cowman claimed nine strike-out victims but had control trouble and granted a dozen bases on balls.

Lions On Spot; Tackle Bills In First Home Tilt

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions of the National Football League play the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League in Tiger Stadium tonight and it ought to be just an exhibition game.

But it isn't. The Lions got the NFL banner somewhat muddy when they lost 13-7 to Denver of the AFL Aug. 5. It was the first time an AFL team ever had beaten a club from the senior circuit.

What's more, Denver was a losing club in the AFL last year, while the Bills were winners.

Not only do the Lions want to be the first NFL club to lose twice to the other League, they want to look good before the home folk.

Harry Gilmer was fired last winter and Joe Schmidt was hired as coach in an effort to lift the Lions out of the football doldrums.

Schmidt was supposed to instill a new attitude in the Lions, infuse them with pride and get them ready to play football.

Instead they showed a lack of snap on offense and a leaky defense, made mental mistakes and helped Denver to its winning touchdown with personal foul penalties.

"We hope to play a much better game against Buffalo," Schmidt said. "We really didn't expect Denver to be such an aggressive team. We'll have a whole new attitude against Buffalo."

One bright spot zschmidt saw in the Denver game was the play of second-year man Bill Malinchak, who caught a pass for Detroit's only touchdown.

It's a cinch he'll see lots of action tonight, since split end Gail Cogdill is out with a broken arm.

Flanker Pat Studdstill, last year's top receiver, is hobbled and may not play.

Schmidt said he would start Milt Plum at quarterback after his showing against Denver. Plum threw for the only Lion score.

But, Schmidt said, he didn't feel Plum had a leg up on the No. 1 quarterbacking spot over Karl Sweetan.

Dick LeBeau, veteran cornerback who held out for 24 days, signed last week and is expected to play tonight. Lem Barney, a highly touted rookie, filled his spot against Denver and was beaten on several pass plays, but the throws went incomplete.

Nick Eddy and Mel Farr, rookie running backs, and Paul Naudumoff, a linebacker, all played in the college All-Star game and missed the Denver game.

"We will use all three of them," Schmidt said. "We're anxious to see how they look."

Roger Brown, Detroit's huge tackle, missed the Denver game but will see action tonight. Brown underwent knee surgery during the winter and Schmidt wanted to give him the extra rest.

Schmidt, seeking to get this team on a winning track, was cautious about Buffalo, upended in its first exhibition game by Miami.

"Buffalo is a good football team," he said. "The Bills' defense is outstanding and they're a good team over-all."

Fisher, Houle Snare Boys Doubles Honors In Tennis Tournament

A pair of young net artists from Escanaba, Steve Fisher and Steve Houle, teamed up to capture the Boys Doubles championship in the Michigan-Wisconsin Open tennis tournament which closed Sunday at the Ludington Park courts.

Fisher and Houle, who won the U.P. high school net crowns for Holy Name last spring, turned back Steve Henslee and Tom Homes of Escanaba 6-1, 6-3 in the opening round and beat Tom Bourke and Tom Michaels in the finals, 6-2, 6-1. Bourke and Michaels had advanced with a 6-4, 6-4 decision over Neil Hivala and John Vader.

Marquette's ageless Bob Brumm, celebrating the 20th anniversary of his entrance in the Michigan-Wisconsin Tennis Open, teamed with Dr. Eric Lincke to capture the 1967 Men's Doubles Championship in the tournament here Sunday.

Brumm and Lincke first disposed of Negaunee's Wassberg and Harris 6-0, 6-2; eliminated Steve Houle and Larry Ziewacz 6-1, 6-0; and then took the title game from Steve and Tom Fisher 6-2, 6-1.

The Fishers had previously defeated Thor Papineau and Joe Mileski of Escanaba 6-2, 6-1; and the Cooper Brothers of Portage, Michigan 6-3, 6-1. Young Bartz topped John Vader 6-0, 6-0; beat Dr. Fitch 6-0, 6-1; eliminated Bob Brumm, 6-0, 6-2; and defeated Tom Fisher 6-2, 6-2 for the championship.

Fisher had gained the title round on a forfeit by Bob Monier, a 6-4, 6-2 win over Dr. Lincke, and a hard fought 10-8, 6-2 victory over Ron Schultz.

Scheffler 6-0, 6-1; B. Cooper over T. Papineau 6-2, 6-1; Dr. Fitch over L. Ziewacz 6-2, 6-4; Fitch over Vader 6-0, 6-0.

Second Round - Fisher over

Lincke 6-4, 6-2; Schultz over Mileski 7-5, 9-7; Brumm over Cooper 6-3, 6-1; Bartz over Fitch 6-0, 6-1.

Semi-Finals - Fisher over Schultz 10-8, 6-2; Bartz over Brumm 6-0, 6-1.

Finals - Bartz over Fisher 6-2, 6-2.

The Intermediate Boys crown went to John Anderson of Rhineland, who defeated an injured but game Craig Coland of Menominee 6-3, 6-4 in the championship match. Anderson had previously defeated B. Snyder 6-1, 6-2; N. Hivala 6-4, 6-2; and S. Houle 6-2, 6-3. Coland, who had severely sprained his ankle in his first match, advanced to the title round on a 6-2, 6-1 victory over S. Fisher; and a 6-4, 6-2 win over J. Vader.

In the Junior Boy's Division, Ted Cleveland of Marquette topped an 11-man field when he edged Tim Homes 6-2, 6-1 for the title. Homes had previously defeated B. Johnson 6-4, 6-3; and Gregg Cooper 6-0, 2-6, 6-3. Cleveland gained the finals on identical 6-2, 6-4 wins over Steve Henslee and Tom Michaels.

Rhineland's Scott Anderson joined his dad and older brother in the winner's circle when he captured the Novice Boy's crown from Bruce Dewar 6-0, 6-0. Anderson had advanced over F. Mitchell and D. Bourke, while Dewar had eliminated T. Mitchell.

John Anderson Sr. made it a clean sweep for the Anderson family by taking the Senior Men's championship from Oliver Felton 6-3, 6-1.

In the ladies matches Menominee's Georgie Ann Smith stepped up to the Senior Women's Division and captured the championship. Marlene McGovern was runner-up.

Kenny Gives Blood For Vietnam; Helps Chicago Cubs To Victory

By The Associated Press
Over in Vietnam, somebody who undoubtedly is glad that Pvt. Ken Holtzman gave a couple of pints of blood last week. Back in Philadelphia, they may wish he wasn't all that civic-minded.

Holtzman, on his first pass from the Army in nearly three months, pitched well enough for 5-13 innings for the Chicago Cubs to beat the Phillies 6-2. They took the nightcap, too, 1-0 behind Ferguson Jenkins.

Holtzman, who went into the Army for six months with a 5-0 record on May 20, hopes to make his weekend pitching a regular thing now that he's out of basic training and learning to be a combat medic at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

"I won't know until Friday if I'm going to get a pass," he said. "This weekend I got one by giving two pints of blood. I've got enough left if they say give some more, but I'm not doing it just to get a pass. It goes to Vietnam. I know how much it's needed."

Maybe it was the long layoff or maybe the missing blood, but Holtzman says he began to tire in the fifth and Manager Leo Durocher took the 21-year-old lefty out, though he gave up just four hits, striking out four and walking two.

Bill Stoneman finished up and Ron Santo's 25th homer sparked a three-run fourth inning. Jenkins stopped the Phils on four hits in the second game, winning his 16th game, and Don Kessinger drove in the only run of the game.

In other National League contests Sunday, New York swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 3-0 and 11-9, Cincinnati shut out Los Angeles 3-0, St. Louis edged San Francisco 2-1 and Atlanta crushed Houston 8-4.

Tom Seaver threw a four-hit shutout in the first game for the Mets, who scored three times in the eighth inning to beat the Pirates. Ed Kranepool's two-out single drove in the only run New York needed.

In the second game, the Phils rates took an 8-6 lead into the eighth, but the Mets fought back for five runs on two singles, a sacrifice fly and a force out. Ron Swoboda homered for New York and Willie Stargell and Bob Rodgers connected for the Pirates.

Sammy Ellis made it two shutouts in a row for the Reds over the Dodgers, stopping Los Angeles on three hits. Lee May hit a two-run homer for Cincinnati. Saturday, Milt Pappas blanked the Dodgers on six hits.

The Cardinals scored both their runs in the third inning on a walk, a single by Lou Brock and a double by Alex Johnson. Dick Hughes, with relief help from Joe Hoerner, was the winner. Willie McCovey tripled in the fourth for the Giants and scored on Jim Hart's single.

Rico Carty, Mack Jones and Hank Aaron hit homers for the Braves who won their fifth consecutive game as the Astros dropped their 10th straight and fell into the National League cellar.

Pro Net Chief Is Out Of Job

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Tennis' touring professionals, minus a ruler, turned their sights toward Europe today convinced that Rocket Rod Laver is truly supreme.

The versatile Australian with the winning habit, thrashed rookie Dennis Ralston 8-6, 6-0 in the finals of the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation Sunday.

Laver then returned with fellow Australian Fred Stolle to win the doubles title, surging from behind to down Pancho Segura and Alex Olmedo 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

The wrapup of the tournament was punctuated with word that Wally Dill no longer serves as executive director of the International Professional Tennis Association.

The New York Mets drew 395,084 fans to Shea Stadium for 12 Sunday dates in 1966. That's an average of 32,923 fans a Sunday.

Tigers Notch Third Straight; One Game Out Of First Place

DETROIT (AP) — Like the weather, everybody talks about the bean ball but nobody does much of anything about it.

The subject reared its ugly, but colorful head in a brief skirmish between Detroit's Earl Wilson and rookie Jim Hardin of the Baltimore Orioles in a game won by the Tigers 3-2 Sunday.

The victory, Detroit's third straight, put the Tigers one game back of new leader Minnesota in the tight American League pennant race. The Twins beat Chicago 3-2 to take over first place, one-half game ahead of the Sox.

Ray Oyler had just delighted 21,114 fans with a long homer into the lower left field stands to give the Tigers a 3-0 lead in the second inning when Hardin hit Wilson with a fast ball.

Oyler's homer, his first, followed Al Kaline's double and a walk to Jim Price.

Hardin, making only his second start in the majors, led off the Baltimore third and Wilson's first pitch sailed behind his head and into the backstop.

Plate umpire John Stevens halted play and issued a stern warning to Wilson, Detroit Manager Mayo Smith and Hank Bauer, the Baltimore skipper.

"Let's put it this way," said Bauer. "I don't think Hardin was throwing at Mr. Wilson, but I think Mr. Wilson was throwing at Mr. Hardin."

Hardin, now 1-1, wasn't available for comment.

Wilson said, "Hardin was standing awfully close to the plate and the pitch was a bit inside."

But confronted with a more direct question, the big right-hander said: "Look. He hit me and I got my shot at him and now it's all over."

"He (Hardin) was petrified," noted Smith. "If he stepped back, the ball would have hit him. Stevens was waiting for it. When Wilson let fly, he stepped in and stopped it."

Bauer said dusters and Bean balls are all part of baseball.

"It's up to the umpires to decide if a pitch is a duster or just got away from a pitcher. You can't be a mind reader."

The loss was Baltimore's sixth in seven games.

"We play just good enough to get beat," he said. "One decision changed this game for us."

He referred to a play in the seventh inning when shortstop Oyler made a fine back-hand stop of Dave Johnson's grounder in the hole between short and third and nipped him at first with a perfect throw.

Curt Blefary had hit his 17th homer leading off the inning, cutting the Detroit lead to 3-2 and Paul Blair, who hit his 10th homer in the second, walked.

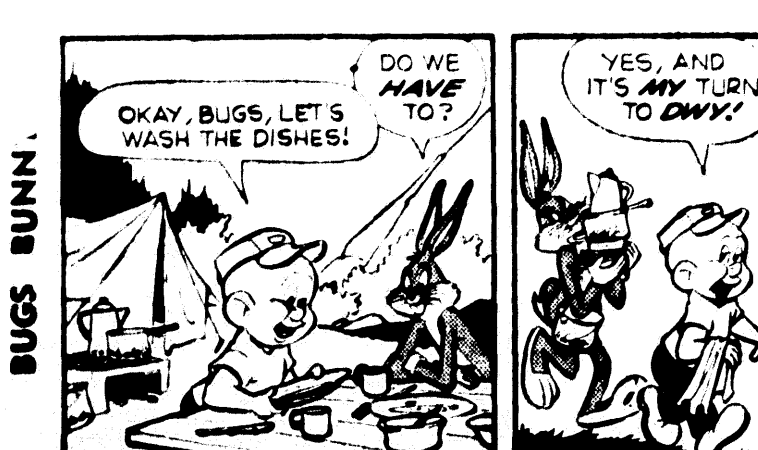

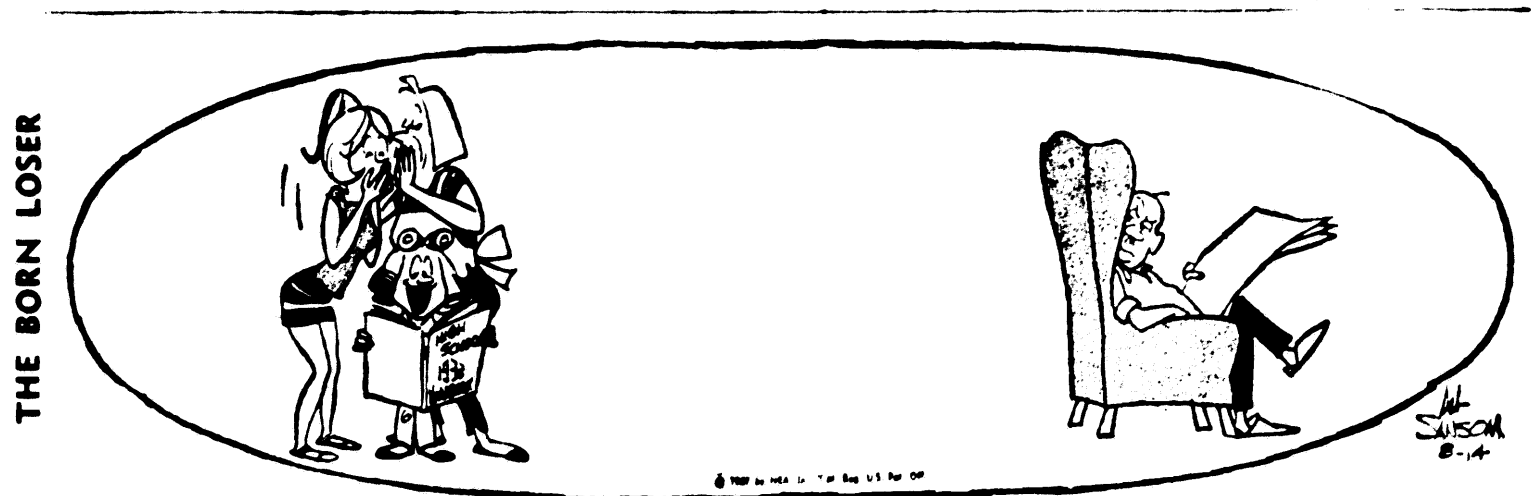

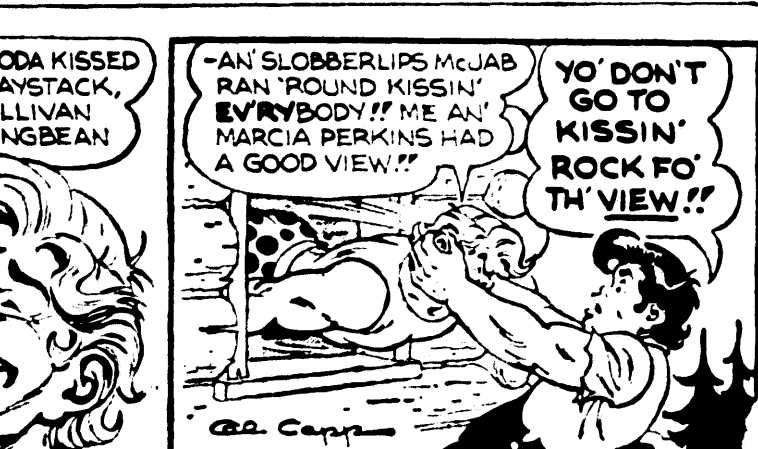

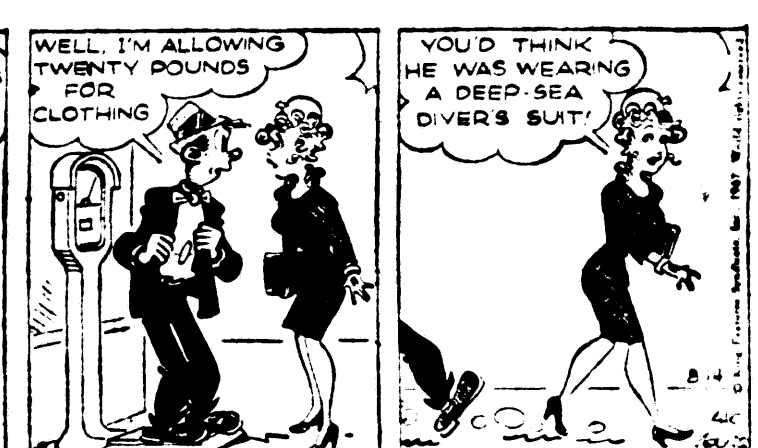

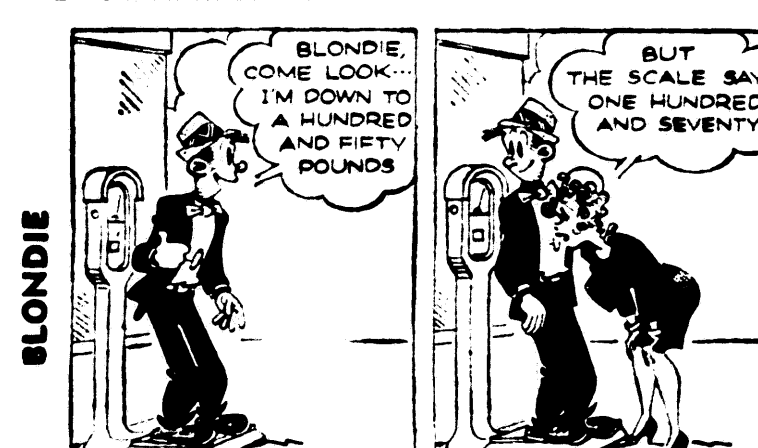

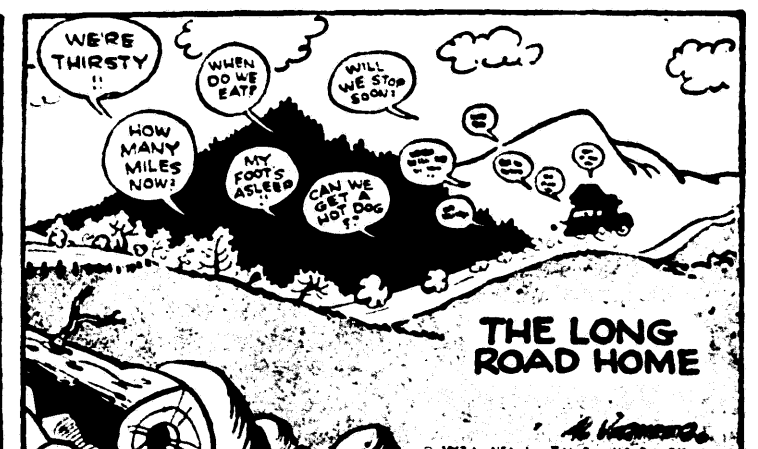

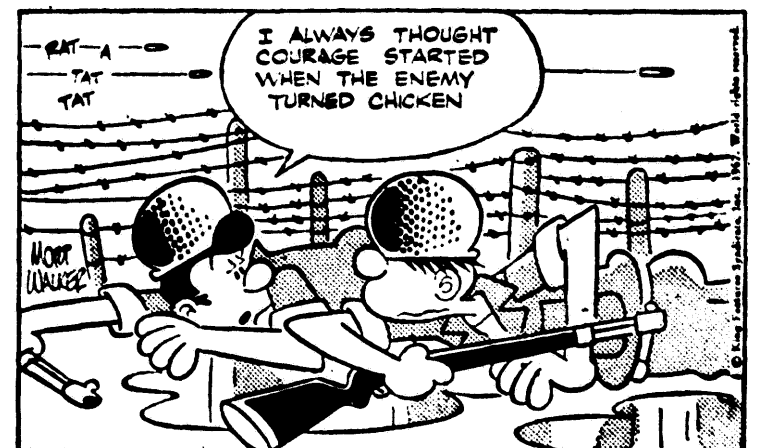

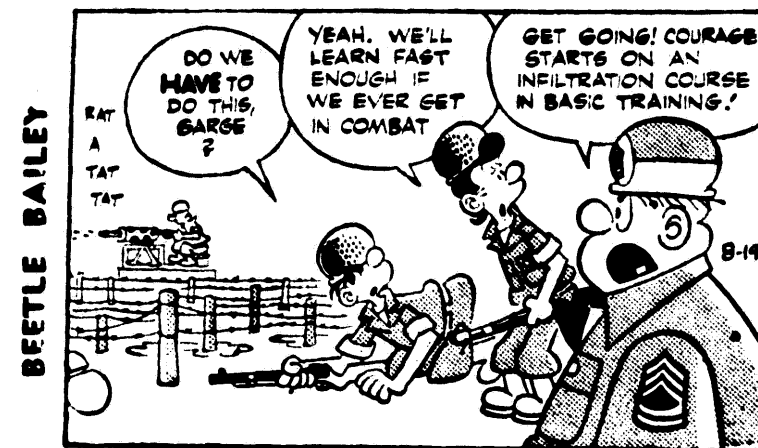

"If Johnson was safe, we would have had two men on and nobody out," said Bauer. "Wilson would be taken out and we could have sacrificed."

Wilson got out of the jam by getting Vic Roznovsky on a fly to Kaline and striking out pinch-hitter Bob Powell.

The victory was Wilson's 16th against nine losses.

Wilson, who singled to lead off the Detroit seventh, was replaced by Fred Lasher, just up from Toledo, who held the Orioles scoreless the rest of the game.

The Tigers were off today and open a three-game series with the contending Boston Red Sox Tuesday. Joe Sparrino is slated to pitch for Detroit against Dave Morehead.

Twins Use Chisox Style To Snatch First Place In American Loop Race

By The Associated Press

Eddie Stanky must have thought it was all a bad dream. Here was Minnesota tip-toeing away with the American League lead and using a pitch and putt attack more characteristic of Stanky's Chicago White Sox to do it.

So, with first place slowly drifting away, Stanky decided to put up a fight. And all that strategy got him was an early shower. About two outs early.

The Twins were nursing a 3-2 lead built on a Chicago-type rally of two singles, a double steal, an intentional walk, and a force play. When Tommie Agee opened the ninth with a long double, Stanky thought he was back in business.

But Agee, trying to stretch his hit, was thrown out at third on a close play. Stanky rushed umpire Bill Valentine, tossed his cap, jawed nose to nose and was invited to leave early. Two outs later, the rest of the White Sox followed.

The 3-2 victory moved the Twins into the league lead, 1/2 game in front of Chicago. Detroit, which beat Baltimore 3-2, is third, one game back. California took fourth place, 1 1/2 games behind, by beating Boston 3-2. The Red Sox are fifth, 2 1/2 games out.

In other American League games, New York outslugged Cleveland 15-11 and Washington blanked Kansas City 2-0.

In the National League, Cincinnati topped Los Angeles 3-0. St. Louis shaded San Francisco 2-1. Atlanta dropped Houston 8-4. New York swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 3-0 and 11-9 and Chicago took a pair from Philadelphia 6-2 and 1-0.

The Twins' victory was their fourth straight and completed an 8-2 home stand. "Now we've got to have a good road trip to make it stick," said Manager Cal Ermer.

Stanky locked the clubhouse door for 30 minutes after the game and wouldn't discuss the play at third base on Agee. "We got beat 3-2," he said. "That's all I've got to say."

The Twins pushed the winning run across in the eighth. Cesar Tovar and Tony Oliva opened with singles and worked the double steal after Harmon Killebrew struck out.

Bob Allison was intentionally walked and then Don Buford deflected Rich Rollins' bouncer to Ron Hansen, who forced Killebrew at second as Tovar scored.

Rollins drove in all three Minnesota runs and Agee homered for the White Sox.

California won its fourth straight, with home runs by Jose Cardenal and Roger Repoz the big blows. Cardenal's inside-the-park shot led off the game for the Angels and Repoz connected against loser Jim Lonborg, 16-6 in the second inning.

Rico Petrocelli had a two-run shot for Boston with two out in the ninth, but Bill Kello, the third Angel pitcher, came on to get the final out.

Bob Tillman drove in six runs — three on a ninth inning homer — and Horace Clarke and Ruben Amaro smacked four hits apiece as the Yankees beat the Indians. Max Alvis rapped a pair of home runs for Cleveland.

Frank Bertana pitched a five-hitter as the Senators reached .500 again by beating the Athletics. Rick Monday's second inning error and singles by Bernie Allen and Ed Brinkman, provided all the runs Bertana needed.

The Senators, in sixth place, are only six games behind the league leading Twins, and how's that for a pennant race?

Cyclist Hurt In Accident

Thomas Noon, 27, of 700 Bay St., Escanaba, remained in St. Francis Hospital today with injuries suffered in a traffic accident at 10:50 p.m. Sunday.

Details on the extent of his injuries were not available.

State Police of the Gladstone Post said Noon was hurt when his motorbike was sideswiped on US-241, about 50 feet east of County Rd. 521. Officers said he was thrown from the motorbike in the accident. The car involved failed to stop, Noon told police.

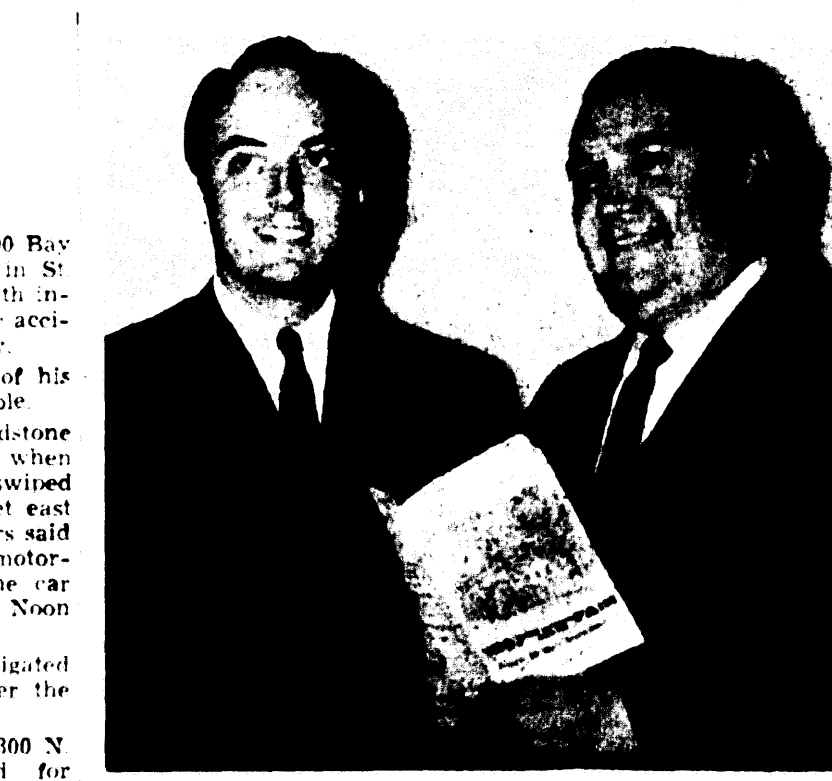

Troopers also investigated three other accidents over the weekend.

Thomas Greis, 26, of 1300 N. 16th St., was ticketed for careless driving after a collision on US-241 near the Buck Inn at 8:30 p.m. Sunday. Troopers said Greis drove his car out of Pioneer Trail park and turned the wrong way on a divided highway, forcing two cars off the road in the northbound lanes before colliding with a car driven by Charles Russell, 19, of Northland.

Officers also reported that Henry Charon, 56, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, hit a bear with his car on County Rd. 414, about a half mile west of County Rd. 525 in Wells Township at 9 a.m. Sunday. The bear limped off into the woods, police said.

Gary Larson, 21, of Ensign, was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law after his car struck the rear of a car driven by William Petsch, 33, Detroit, in Rapid River at 10:05 a.m. Saturday. Petsch's car was pushed into the rear of a car driven by Paul Richter, 22, of Glenellyn, Ill. Both Richter and Petsch had stopped for traffic at a signal.

Tickets were issued over the weekend by State Police to Robert Willis, Wilson, speeding, and Nino Green, 1309 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, failure to stop for stop sign.

MAKING FINAL plans for the 118th Michigan State Fair are Cuss J. Wasung, right, acting general manager, and a key member of his staff, Alger Strom, acting comptroller. Strom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alger Strom, of Gladstone, where he is an attorney. The fair opens Friday, Aug. 25, and runs through Monday, Sept. 4.

British Suffer Track Disaster

LONDON (AP) — American track artist Jim Ryun flew out of England today leaving British sporting circles a picture of impending national disaster at next year's Olympic Games.

The 20-year-old speedster from Wichita, Kan., strolled a mile round the celebrated White City track Saturday, leaving Kenyan distance ace Kip Keino galloping yards behind and Britain's best gasping in their down-draught.

In a race billed as the Mile of the Century, world record holder Ryun turned in an effortless 3:56.0, well outside his best of 3:51.1. The Kenyan policeman was 1.4 seconds behind.

The United States walloped the British 139-04 and one sports writer said today that it reminded him of an old movie featuring "clowns going backward."

British sports writers blamed fatalism among the nation's top track stars and lethargy among its controlling officials for the disappointing result. They called for a shakeup of both to avoid humiliation in Mexico.

Calumet Pair In Houghton's Jail After Gun Spree

CALUMET (AP) — Two men today were held in the Houghton County jail in nearby Houghton after a break-in at a police station and a shooting spree described by police as "something out of the Wild West."

Robert Coppo, 24, and Carl Weijola, 20, both of Calumet, were arrested by State Police Sunday and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Ruben J. Rowe on charges of breaking and entering and armed robbery.

Calumet police chief John L. Sullivan said the break-in occurred while the village's one man late night police force was aiding a heart attack victim some distance away.

Smash Station Door
Sullivan said the men broke into the fire station, took an axe from the ladder truck and smashed in the door to the police station. Both the police and fire departments are in the village hall in this Upper Michigan community of 1,100 residents.

"They broke open the lockers and took out some pistols and billy clubs and a lot of ammunition and started shooting things up," the chief said.

Patrolman Frederick Rauch heard the gunshots as he approached the station and he radioed for help from the police force at nearby Laurium. State police also were called as were Houghton County sheriff's officers.

By the time Rauch got into the station, the two intruders had run off into the night after firing several shots into the air.

Shoot And Flee
Chief Sullivan said the pair went to two homes in an effort to get an auto. The first homeowner peeked out, saw the men with guns in their hands, and did not answer their pounding on the door. The second refused to turn over the keys to his car and the men fired one shot into his living room ceiling and fled.

They then continued on to a cottage where Luke Shultz of Seewickley, Pa., and his family were vacationing. They entered via a screen door, fired a shot into the ceiling, and forced Shultz to turn over his car keys.

As they sped towards Hancock, 12 miles away, a State Police car spotted them and gave chase. Troopers Harold Riley and Carl Hendrickson fired 10 shots at the fleeing vehicle before they punctured a rear tire, sending the fleeing car careening out of control.

Count 11 Bullet Holes
Trooper Riley said neither man offered any resistance when the officers approached them. He said the pair fired no shots at the police car during the chase.

"I would say both suspects were under the influence of alcohol," said Chief Sullivan.

Sullivan counted 11 bullet holes in his tiny police station.

"It's like something out of the wild west," he said.

Charge Negro Started Riot
DETROIT (AP) — A 22-year-old Negro was charged today with helping to trigger Detroit's week-long riot last month which resulted in the deaths of 43 persons, injury to several hundred and property damage estimated at more than $500 million.

Michael Lewis was named in three warrants which accused him of urging a crowd to riot and joining in the riot on at least two occasions. Maximum penalty under the charge is five years in jail.

Lewis was arrested by police Sunday night near his home on the fringe of the 12th Street area where the riot broke out July 23 after an early morning raid on a "blind pig" speakeasy.

Police said they have been seeking two agitators who inflamed the crowd of some 200 persons that gathered outside to watch police load prisoners into vans.

The two men reportedly shouted such things as "damn white cops—let's go get them" and other inflammatory phrases.

Police said an officer spotted Lewis Sunday night on the street and recognized him as one of the men being sought.

Allis-Chalmers Merger Proposed
MILWAUKEE — The merger proposal which would join Allis-Chalmers to General Dynamics Corp. probably would have to be ratified by stockholders of both companies before a formal corporate union could be completed.

The West Allis based firm revealed over the weekend that it has been engaged for some time in discussions with General Dynamics officials on a possible merger.

Allis-Chalmers officials did not indicate how many sessions they have had with General Dynamics managements, but the company said Sunday it would pursue further talks with the New York based firm.

Details of the proposed merger came out when Allis-Chalmers rejected Thursday's bid by Ling-Temco-Vought to make a tender offer for 4,750,000 shares; just under 51% of Allis-Chalmers common stock at $45 a share. The Dallas, Tex., firm also intended to acquire up to 145,000 shares of convertible preferred in a total package of $235 million.

Cold War Echoes Intrude Meeting Of Orientalists

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The International Congress of Orientalists, first to be held in the Western Hemisphere, opened Sunday with 50 nations represented and the Cold War echoing in the background.

The Soviet Union and other European Communist nations have boycotted the congress in a reflection of rising tensions between Moscow and Washington.

The delegates were reminded at the opening session that the Communist boycott had intruded world political differences into what was to be purely a scholarly exchange to increase international understanding.

President Harlan Hatcher of the University of Michigan, whose campus is the site of the congress, pointed out in a welcoming address that international tensions had not interfered with Soviet attendance last month at an International Atomic Energy meeting at the university.

He expressed regret at the absence of 60 scholars who were to have come from the Soviet Union.

"Whatever may be the political differences and the tensions that divide governments, we are always deeply sorry when anything intervenes with this very necessary and prized intercommunication of scholars, which always transcends national differences and differences of governments," Hatcher told the opening session.

"I hope the scholarly dedication of this group — as many others — will overcome these barriers to our full communication, particularly in the realm of scholarship which is so essential to us."

China Releases Russ Freighter
MOSCOW (AP) — The battered Soviet merchant ship Svirsk jumped out of the Red Chinese port of Dairen Sunday a Moscow report said, after the Chinese released her captain and three crewmen following a bitter exchange of protest notes with the Soviets.

The Soviet Union announced that seven tugboats full of Red Guards escorted the ship out of the Yellow Sea port. The Svirsk's hull, superstructure and equipment bore anti-Soviet inscriptions.

All the Russian crewmen were aboard when the Svirsk headed for the Soviet port of Vladivostok, the announcement reported, but the ship's documents were kept by the Chinese.

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin sent a telegram to Chinese Premier Chou En-lai Saturday demanding that the Red Chinese release the captain and captured crewmen and let the Svirsk sail.

A Peking broadcast heard in Tokyo, however, made no mention of Kosygin's telegram in announcing that "the Chinese government ordered the captain and one other crewman to leave China and never come back to this country."

Ike All Set To Go Home Today
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, 76, is scheduled to check out of Walter Reed Army Hospital later today following a 10-day hospitalization for a gastrointestinal ailment.

His doctors have indicated the five-star general made steady improvement from the time he entered the hospital a week ago last Saturday.

Plans are, the hospital announced, for Eisenhower to fly back to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm home following a brief news conference on the hospital steps.

Check On Arson In Wayne U Fire
DETROIT (AP) — Fire broke out on two different floors of the General Library at Wayne State University Sunday night, destroying 10,000 books and causing upwards of $30,000 damage. No one was injured.

A university spokesman said the Fire Department was investigating the possibility of arson. The spokesman said the building was closed Sunday. The fire was reported by an anonymous caller at 10:46 p. m.

L. R. Johnson Dies On Sunday

Lawrence Raymond Johnson, 37, 1709 McKay St., Waukegon, Ill., and former Gladstone resident, died suddenly on Sunday morning in Waukegon.

He was born July 4, 1930 in Green Bay and had been employed as a construction foreman and carpenter in Waukegon for the past five years. Mr. Johnson was a member of the Carpenter's Union and was a veteran of the Korean War.

He is survived by his widow, the former Barbara Garvey of Escanaba; two daughters, Susan and Mary Jo, and two sons, Raymond and Michael, all at home. Two aunts also survive.

Friends may call at the Skradski Funeral Home after 4 p. m. Tuesday and funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday at the funeral home with Rev. George Olson officiating. Bombings Near China Stir Up Policy Critics

Increased bombing, said he hopes to hold the line against further cuts in the bill but added: "I expect it will be tough going."

He told a newsman he expects "all kinds of amendments to be offered."

The Senate warmed up to its latest Vietnam tussle Friday when a battery of members questioned how fairly the South Vietnamese elections will be run.

Clark Clifford, a Johnson emissary, said Sunday he gave South Vietnamese leaders earlier this month the President's warning a rigged presidential election would cost South Vietnam the support of the American people.

He and Gen. Maxwell Taylor visited South Vietnam chief of state Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, a candidate for president, and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. Thieu's running mate for vice president.

"We took a personal message from President Johnson to Ky and Thieu on this subject and said, as bluntly as it can be said, that if there was any one act on their part which would be calculated to alienate the American people, it would be to have a rigged election in South Vietnam," said Clifford.

He added: "It is my private view that they will do all in their power to make them fair and honest elections, because I think they understand very clearly the result that will take place in this country in the loss of support for South Vietnam if they are not that way."

Taylor said everything he saw "indicates that the government is insistent on an honest election. They are making every effort, under the conditions of war, to obtain conditions where campaigning is possible and with a maximum participation of the voters."

Clifford said he is sure the Thieu-Ky government would relinquish power if an opposition ticket wins the election Sept. 3.

He said also "there is a general feeling there that whichever ticket is elected, some gesture will be made by the new government of South Vietnam to see if it can, by direct contact with Hanoi, start some sort of negotiations."

Clifford and Taylor spoke on CBS' "Face the Nation."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said in an interview unless Johnson acts soon to insure honest campaigning and elections, senators who doubt Ky's and Thieu's sincerity will return to the attack.

He suggested Johnson send a bipartisan commission of congressional and administration leaders to Vietnam to study the campaigning and watch the voting.

Senate leaders rejected Friday a South Vietnamese invitation for a congressional panel to observe the balloting.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said Sunday in a television interview: "Those who want us to get out of Vietnam lock, stock and barrel latched onto this idea of a bad election as a pretext that we should get out. I don't agree."

He said he had "read every word" available from government reports and found "the charges are not borne out to be true."

One frequent administration war policy critic, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he viewed the bombing near Red China as consistent with administration policy. He told a newsman: "This is not an aggressive act against China, and it is no cause for any retaliation by China against us."

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., said the bombing of North Vietnam had failed to bring the enemy to the negotiation table and it was time to "try something else."

Highway Safety Escanaba Meeting Set For October

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today announced plans for nine regional traffic safety conferences in September and October.

Romney said the conferences are planned "as a means of promoting greater understanding and thereby greater action in this vital area of public concern."

Some 10,000 law enforcement officers, judges, local officials, safety council members and concerned citizens will participate, Romney said.

"The gains we have made in traffic safety must be measured against the continuing death, injury and property loss toll on our streets and highways," Romney said.

"We have made some progress in safety legislation, in engineering, in education and law enforcement. But we are still moving too slowly."

The conference schedule: Sep.

11, Lansing; Sept. 13, Saginaw; Sept. 15, Tecumseh; Sept. 18, Pontiac; Sept. 20, Gaylord; Sept. 22, Niles; Sept. 29, Sault Ste. Marie; Oct. 2, Grand Rapids; Oct. 6, Escanaba.

Allis-Chalmers Merger Proposed

MILWAUKEE — The merger proposal which would join Allis-Chalmers to General Dynamics Corp. probably would have to be ratified by stockholders of both companies before a formal corporate union could be completed.

The West Allis based firm revealed over the weekend that it has been engaged for some time in discussions with General Dynamics officials on a possible merger.

Allis-Chalmers officials did not indicate how many sessions they have had with General Dynamics managements, but the company said Sunday it would pursue further talks with the New York based firm.

Details of the proposed merger came out when Allis-Chalmers rejected Thursday's bid by Ling-Temco-Vought to make a tender offer for 4,750,000 shares; just under 51% of Allis-Chalmers common stock at $45 a share. The Dallas, Tex., firm also intended to acquire up to 145,000 shares of convertible preferred in a total package of $235 million.
